
Eve's Fund donates $5K to relief fund

FARMINGTON – Eve's Fund for Native American Health Initiatives has donated $5,000 to the "Navajo Nation COVID-19 Relief Fund" to help fight the pandemic that is ravaging the Navajo Nation.

The donation represents the combined proceeds of many individual unrestricted gifts to Eve's Fund from generous supporters of our work.

The Navajo Nation has been hit hard by the coronavirus and currently has the third-highest COVID-19 infection rate per capita in the United States, after New York and New Jersey.

Sadly, the number of deaths is disproportionately high and both young and old are being affected.

Today, May 5, 2020, is #GivingTuesdayNow—a global day of giving and unity, as an emergency response to the unprecedented need caused by

COVID-19. (This is in addition to the scheduled December 1, 2020 #GivingTuesday.)

"#GivingTuesdayNow provides an opportunity for people around the world to use their individual power of generosity to remain connected and to heal," Eve's Fund stated in a Tuesday news release. "Together, we can make a big difference, especially in the fight against the global pandemic, COVID-19."
